Welcome to the Heinlein Centennial!

SCHEDULE BOOK UPDATES

Not surprisingly, there are changes to the Schedule Book, upon which the ink is barely dry. (And don't ask why the ink is barely dry upon it; merely marvel at how fast a commercial printer can work.)

FRIDAY CHANGES: The session scheduled for 10 am on Saturday in New York A, "The Military & Space: What Are They Doing?" is moved to 3 pm Friday and retitled to: "The Past and Future of Aircraft-like Space Access."

The description for the session at 8:00 pm in Chicago A, "The Juveniles," is alphabetized incorrectly, between "F" and "G."

SATURDAY CHANGES: The session scheduled for 10 am on Saturday in New York A, "The Military & Space: What Are They Doing?" is moved to 3 pm Friday and retitled to: "The Past and Future of Aircraft-like Space Access."

The session scheduled for 12 pm in Century C, "Peter Diamandis: D.D. Harriman?" is moved to 1pm.

The session formerly scheduled for the 1 pm Century C slot, "Commercial Space: We may not need D.D. Harriman" is moved to Sunday 1pm.

SUNDAY CHANGES: 1pm Century C: "Heinlein's 21st Century: The Frontier Beckons" is replaced by "Commercial Space: We may not need D.D. Harriman". The speaker for the original session, Rick Tumlinson, will not be appearing.

OTHER CHANGES: Jim Benson ("Meet Your Future, Part 1") will not appear due to a family loss. Our condolences to Jim.

Jim Campbell ("As God and Heinlein Intended", "The Next Five Years", "Paging D.D. Harriman") will not appear due to illness. Get well soon, Jim.

Photography is permitted with discretion. Audio and video recording of any kind, including with cel phones and PDAs, is not permitted without written permission from the Heinlein Centennial Executive Committee. See the Schedule Book for details.

"Critics' Lounge" & Ad Hoc Room

We have two special areas for all registered attendees.

The "Critics' Lounge" is a social hall and general gathering place for all. It will be available all weekend except for after 3 pm on Saturday.

The Ad Hoc programming room is for registrants to create their own sessions — just in case we haven't covered some topic of interest to everyone. Stop by Chouteau B and sign up for your slot, then it's up to you!

"TAKE THE LINK"

The Hyatt and Westin are connected by a very convenient, mostly airconditioned tunnel called The Link. We would have put information about it in the Schedule Book, but the exact map and situation wasn't clear until we got here and saw it for ourselves.

FROM THE HYATT You can reach The Link from the Hyatt by going to the Mezzanine Level and going between the Empire and Chouteau rooms shown on the Schedule Book map. That's not a wall at the end; that's The Link.

FROM THE WESTIN You can reach The Link from the Westin by going to the Ballroom Level and heading past the Penn Valley and Pershing Place East & West rooms shown on the Schedule Book map. That's not a blank wall by the restrooms; that's The Link.

To enhance the experience, pretend it's a lunar colony tunnel like we have here in Luna City in 2107.

The Centennial Souvenir Book... One to a Customer!

The Souvenir Book is a lovely part of your registration packet. It is also a nonreplaceable item: If you lose yours, you will have to purchase a new copy from the Centennial table in the Marketplace.

Quantities are limited and the value is high, so please keep track of yours carefully. We suggest writing your name and registration number inside the rear cover. (Should you find a loose Souvenir Book and not be a Black Hat, please turn it in to Registration.)

And if you want extra copies, you can buy them from our Marketplace table...while they last.

SCHEDULE BOOK UPDATE 3 - SATURDAY MORNING

The biography for Michael Laine actually belongs to Frank Smith. It's a good thing that Michael isn't here, we guess, or the confusion would be even greater.
